

REALITY

It is the Unmanifest that brings forth the Manifest. Thus,

It is the selfless into which the self can complete its growth.

It is the silence within that truly
sounds out.

It is the timeless that can make
the best use of our time.

It is the unattainable that moves
us to achieve the attainable.

It is the impossible that challenges
us to improve beyond the possible.

It is the perfect that inspires us to transcend the imperfect.

It is the limitless that sculptures
our limits into beauty.
